WEST VIRGINIA STATE UNIVERSITY

“Our high quality academic programs and consistent pursuit of excellence continues to receive accolades as we, at West Virginia State University, proudly develop tomorrow’s leaders.” – President Anthony L. Jenkins, West Virginia State University

MY VISION FOR WVSU

West Virginia State University will become a premier regional Research University recognized nationally for the quality education, innovative teaching and experiential learning.

YOUR IMPACT

They say it’s all about the journey, and every journey has a beginning. Every year, I encounter amazing students who enter West Virginia State University with the hopes of a brighter future. They enroll at WVSU because they believe in the quality of our education, they build self-efficacy in our nurturing environment, and they come to realize the impossible is possible. It starts at STATE.

I have often said the greatest untapped places in the world are our colleges and universities. It is here that the future is created, cures for diseases are discovered, leaders are developed, technology is advanced and the next generation of change agents come of age.

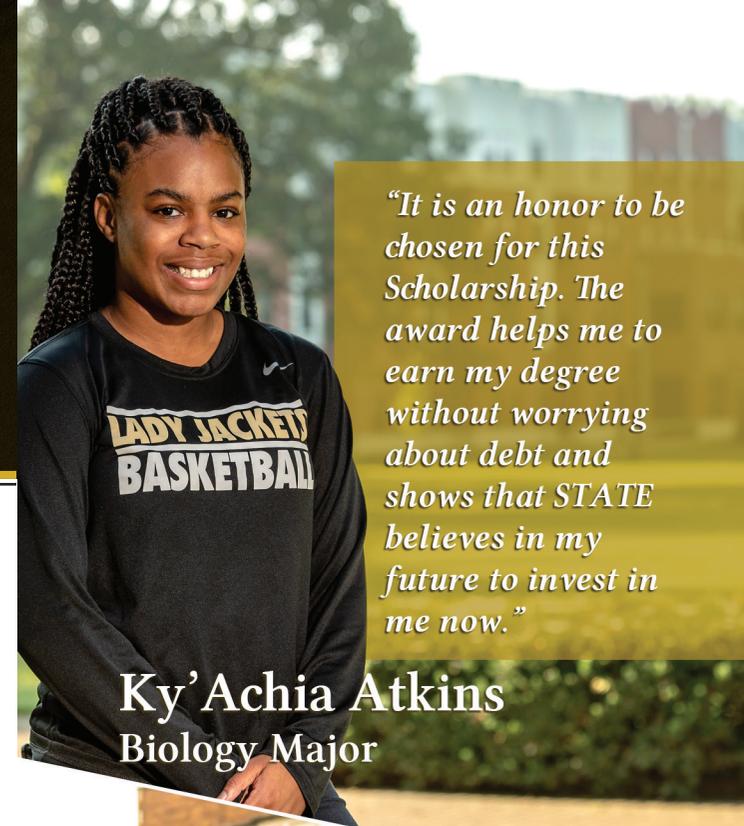

I have an unwavering commitment to help all of our students reach their fullest potential. As a first-generation college student, I know firsthand the power of a quality college education. I understand how it can profoundly change one’s path and enhance the quality of their life. This is precisely what I am committed to giving all Yellow Jackets.

Over the past years, no challenges (i.e., university budget cuts or changing federal regulations) have troubled me more than seeing students unable to return to STATE simply because they lack financial resources.

I have read heartfelt letters from students and parents who were working for a better life but saw their educational dream end because they simply did not have the $1,000 or $2,500 they needed to earn their college degree.

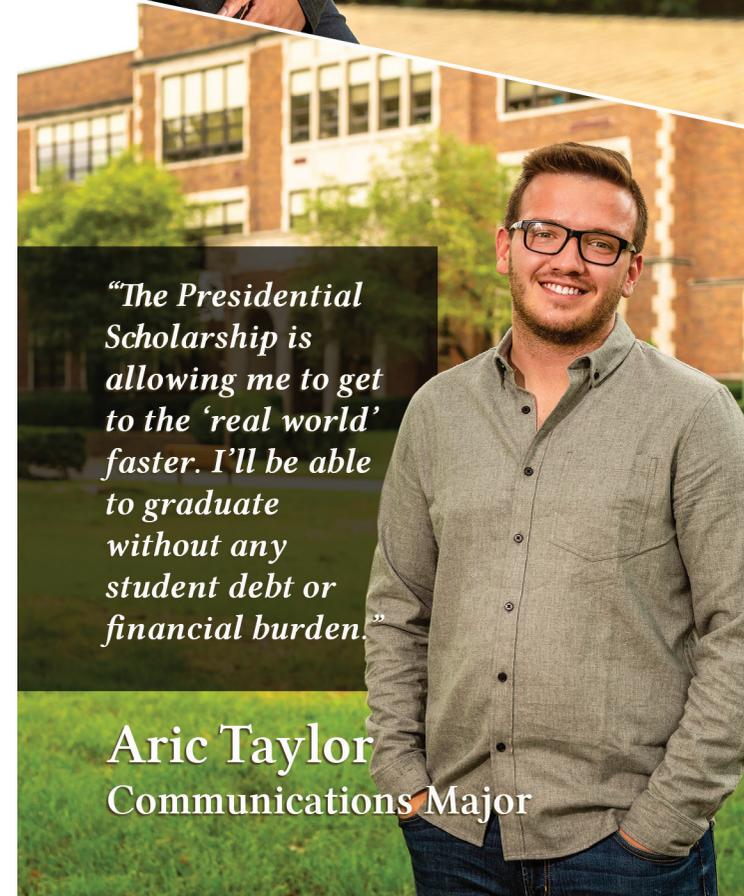

I am asking you and all those who care, to help me raise $400,000 for the Presidential Scholarship. Please take a moment to consider the effect your minimum contribution of $1,000 can have on the life and future of our students.

Together, we can build on WVSU’s record of success. Thank you for your consideration of this very important appeal to help our students persist, graduate, and emerge from WVSU ready to change the world. Go STATE!

“It is an honor to be chosen for this Scholarship. The award helps me to earn my degree without worrying about debt and shows that STATE believes in my future to invest in me now.”
